

Love, Compassion and Forgiveness

Our environmental artistic representation

Team Amy, Ysella, Ellie k and Libby

When we went up to the wildtribe field, we made a mound out of hay, grass, leaves and twigs-this represents layers of compassion and love. On the top we put a unique little red leaf [found by Libby]. We closed our eyes and said the word forgiveness. Ellie thought of a butterfly because when she first forgave her brother[William] a butterfly also flew past, also butterflies seem happy animals. We also thought that when butterflies are in their cocoon stage they are shut away from the world, a bit like you: when you're angry at someone before you forgive them. Then at last the caterpillar escapes their dark cocoon, lets go and spreads their wings, like you forgiving someone and flying away from your sad times. Next we got a long green leaf stalk and attached two crispy, brown leaves and it made a butterfly which we put onto the mount using mud. We then said the word loving and thought of a heart so we made one around the mound using sticks to outline it, so the final picture was of a love heart with a compassion mound in the middle and a forgiveness butterfly on top.

The sacrifice of Jesus

By Dakota and Poppy.

OUR ENVIRONMENTAL ARTISTIC REPRESENTATION

We made a cross with Jesus's crown on it because we remembered when Jesus died on the cross and it made us think about when God sacrificed his child (Jesus) to save us. We made a figure of Jesus and we also put two thorn bracelets on Jesus!!!

Forgiveness

Our Environmental Artistic Representation

We made three hearts (to represent love) out of soggy mud (and CG stepped on two of them) but we made more.

FW started to dig down and found a root so we started to pull it. Then we made the root into a rainbow. The rainbow represents the happy symbol. Then FW found sand underground. We finally made our piece of art and it ended with three hearts, a rainbow and a hole that represents a wishing well.

Love for God

Our environmental artistic representation

Our representation is diamond, about how precious and powerful God is to all Christian people.

We did a diamond because diamonds are precious and so is God. We put a heart shaped rock at the core of the diamond to show God's love for us all (Christian people).

The Four Trees Of Life

Our environmental artistic representation

Our representation was four trees because we thought of the prayers we made about the importance of nature. God is at the top because he is the creator. The four trees represent the four stages of life.

God's Art!

Our environmental artistic representation

We made a heart shape out of: hay, grass, red and yellow leaves, flowers, feathers and mud.

We made a heart to represent forgiveness that God gives us because a heart is a symbol of love and happiness, you need to be happy to forgive.

It is a creation of forgiveness with colourful leaves and flowers! It is a perfect heart shape.

We did this creation in the wild tribe field where there is amazing nature which we used in our build.
